FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

REMOTE NOMINATED FOR LEARNING AWARDS PRIZE

London, 19 October 2016 – Kenyon International Emergency Services' digital training partner, remote, is a finalist at the Learning Awards 2017.

remote has been shortlisted in the Start-up Learning Provider of the Year category, having demonstrated "exceptional performance and contribution to the learning profession."

The Learning and Performance Institute's awards celebrate the highest achieving individuals and organizations in the field of learning and development. There were hundreds of entries from around the globe this year, including submissions from many of the world's leading brands.

The Learning Awards ceremony takes place at the prestigious Dorchester Hotel in London's Park Lane on February 2nd 2017.

About remote:

Major brands and organizations have trusted the team at remote to teach them how to talk to a variety of internal and external audiences. They have trained thousands of people in numerous countries around the world. Now, they are using that training experience combined with their knowledge of network television news production and global corporate communications to develop a series of tailored training packages that can be used online or "on the go" with mobile devices.
